

14th March 1958]

THE HON. SRI R. VENKATARAMAN : கேள்வி கேட்கப்பட்டுவிட்டதால் நான் பதில் சொல்லிவிடுகிறேன். இம்மாதிரி அலுவன்ஸ் கொடுப்பதன் மூலமாக தவறுகளை குறைக்க முடியாது என்று நான் நினைக்கிறேன். சம்பளம் வாங்கக்கூடியவர்கள் கூட இவ்விதமான தவறுகள் செய்வதனால், அலுவன்ஸ் கொடுக்கப்படாததால் இம்மாதிரி தவறுகள் நடக்கின்றன என்று சொல்லுவதற்கில்லை.

MR. SPEAKER : Hon. Members seem to feel that everybody must ask supplementary questions. Even in Parliament not more than two or three supplementary questions are permitted on any one question. But even if I allow twenty or more, hon. Members like Sri Lazar are getting angry. I completely deprecate this attitude on the part of hon. Members.

SRI S. LAZAR : Sir, I only request that the hon. Speaker turns his eyes on our side and that it is not necessary that the member should be allowed to speak.

MR. SPEAKER : The hon. Member may realise that I have short-sight. (Laughter.) I will do my best to allow hon. Members to ask supplementaries.

SRI K. RAMASUBBU : It depends upon the nature of the question. If it is an important question, all of us may like to ask supplementary questions.

MR. SPEAKER : I would make it clear that every member has not got the right to ask supplementaries. Only the hon. Member who puts the question, has the right to ask supplementaries. Such questions may be one, two or three but not more than that. But even if I allow twenty supplementaries, hon. Members are not satisfied. I have to say this because the hon. Member, Sri Viswanathan, expressed this grievance orally. I do not like this.

[14th March 1958]

THE HON. SRI R. VENKATARAMAN : (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) There are at present two marketing societies in the Udaiyarpalayam taluk, Tiruchirappalli district, one at Ariyalur and the other at Jayankondan. There is, therefore, no need to organize a third marketing society in the taluk.

National Building Council

* 332 Q.—SRI N. K. PALANISAMI : Will the Hon. the Minister for Industries be pleased to state—

(a) whether the National Building Council have suggested to the Government any special types of buildings to be constructed in this State; and

(b) if so, the details thereof?

THE HON. SRI R. VENKATARAMAN : (a) & (b) The National Building Council recommended to the State Government, that experimental buildings in adequate numbers be constructed in each State, covering rural as well as urban areas, full advantage being taken in the matter of the finance available under the Subsidized Industrial Housing Scheme of the Government of India. One of the Pilot projects of the Experimental Housing cell has been the construction of eight experimental 'F' type flats, using traditional materials and methods, at Vinay Nagar, New Delhi, for Central Government Servants in the pay group Rs. 150—249 per month. In this project, the basic plan of the Central Public Works Department for 'F' type flats was adopted with small reductions in the floor areas of bath, W.C., and staircase block. The saving effected thereby was utilized for the structural and other improvements such as smooth bearing and expansion joints for R.C.C. slabs, bitumen painting of roof slabs, addition of soap solution in plaster and provision of shelves on a liberal scale in the kitchen. In addition, a saving of about 16 per cent was effected in the building cost, in items of wood work, brickwork, R.C.C. work and foundations, without introducing drastic changes in the design and specifications. The cost of a block of eight experimental type flats is Rs. 37,000 approximately or Rs. 4,625 per flat.
